About Paul Hegyi...

Paul Hegyi was raised and educated in Sacramento where he attended Luther Burbank High School, was Captain of the swim team and Executive Officer in the Navy Junior ROTC.

After graduating from Sacramento State University, Paul knew he wanted to start a career where he could make a difference and he began fighting for conservative causes and candidates.

For much of the next decade, Hegyi helped build Republican Party organizations, and helped elect Republican candidates. He later re-committed himself to the public policy process in the legislature, fighting out-of-control spending, benefits for illegal immigrants, and perks for Special Interests and career politicians.

Like many Republicans, Paul Hegyi was angered by the ethics scandals and unchecked spending of the Republican Party that led to the massive defeat of the 2006 elections. It was on that night that he decided that he could best advance these values, and help reform the Republican Party, by running for State Assembly.

Paul Hegyi is a committed conservative who is dedicated to the real values of the Republican Party...limited government, honesty, ethics and values.

Paul is a local homeowner, a Chief of Staff to Republican Assemblyman Van Tran and is engaged to his fiancée Julie who he will marry in January of 2008.

Secure the borders and end illegal immigration.

Paul Hegyi is a leading voice for immigration reform in California. Paul knows that solving this crisis once and for all means ending the reasons why illegal immigration is happening in the first place.

Paul will...cut off welfare and social programs to illegal aliens and he will never vote to give them drivers' licenses, in-state college tuition or the right to vote in our elections.

No new taxes and no more out of control spending.

Paul Hegyi believes enough is enough...California families are just simply overtaxed and not getting enough for their money. That is why he signed the Americans for Tax Reform's "No-New-Taxes Pledge."

Paul will make it his priority to remind politicians – including Republicans, that it is NOT THEIR MONEY. He thinks politicians have gotten used to being everything to everybody. It is time to tighten the reins and give the public what they deserve...full disclosure and transparency in government, public audits of every state department and finally an end to waste of their tax dollars.

Ethics, honesty and an end to Special Interest influence.

Paul Hegyi is tired of politics as usual with the ever-increasing influence of special interests. He is tired of story after story of corruption and reports of politicians that would be inappropriate for children to hear on the evening news.

Paul will always tell you where he stands and you can trust that he will listen to your opinions and ideas. In the end he will be honest and fair...something that is seriously missing in politicians today.
